Flexible Card Clothing is mainly used on woolen carding machines, cotton opening machines, circular carding machines, and some carding machines. The cover needle cloth on the carding machine mostly uses special sheet-like elastic needle cloth. Elastic needle cloth is prone to fiber clogging between needles, which reduces combing efficiency. It is necessary to regularly use needle cutting tools to remove the clogged fibers, which is called needle cutting. The needle tip will become dull over time and needs to be regularly sharpened with a grinding roller, which is called needle grinding. The operation of wrapping various types of needle cloth onto the combing machine is called wrapping needle cloth. The use and maintenance of needle cloth require corresponding auxiliary equipment and tools.
