The global Gingival Former market size is predicted to grow from US$ 770 million in 2025 to US$ 1332 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 8.3% from 2026 to 2032.

A gingiva former is inserted temporarily in the implant and sticks up through the mucosa (the gums).

The gingival former market is expanding as an essential component in dental implant procedures. Gingival formers are temporary caps placed on dental implants to shape and condition the surrounding gum tissue before final restorations. The market's growth is driven by the increasing demand for precise and aesthetically pleasing implant outcomes. Gingival formers aid in achieving proper gingival contour and tissue healing, ensuring optimal fit and appearance of dental prosthetics. As dental implant procedures become more commonplace and patient expectations rise, the gingival former market is anticipated to continue growing, offering dental professionals tools to enhance the success and cosmetic outcomes of implant restorations.
