Laser printer means the printer uses laser or LED electrophotographic printing technology, toner powder, and a drum unit to create printed images. Compared with inkjet printers, laser printers are generally faster, more suitable for high-volume document printing, and produce sharp text quality.

A4 laser printers are the most common type of office laser printer. They are mainly used for everyday document printing, such as reports, letters, invoices, contracts, forms, and internal office materials. A4 laser printers are usually smaller, cheaper, faster for standard documents, and widely used in home offices, small businesses, schools, banks, hospitals, and general corporate offices.

A3 laser printers can print larger paper than A4 printers. They are used when users need bigger-format documents, such as engineering drawings, architectural layouts, financial charts, marketing materials, posters, brochures, spreadsheets, and presentation materials. A3 laser printers are usually larger and more expensive than A4 models, and they are often sold as multifunction printers with printing, copying, scanning, and fax functions.

In 2025, global A3 and A4 Laser Printer sales volume reached approximately 28.3 million units, with an average price of approximately US$ 480 per unit.
