The global AASHTO Bearing Pads market size is predicted to grow from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million in 2031; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of %from 2025 to 2031.

AASHTO Grade Bearing Pad is cut from a molded sheet of polychloroprene (neoprene), a synthetic rubber compound. It is used in steel beams, bridges, buildings, precast & prestressed concrete applications.

The demand for AASHTO bearing pads is directly linked to the number and scale of bridge and infrastructure projects. A surge in infrastructure development and bridge construction/rehabilitation, especially in emerging economies, can spur demand. Innovations in material science and design could lead to the development of more durable or efficient bearing pads, influencing purchasing decisions. The overall health of the economy can impact infrastructure spending and thus the demand for bearing pads. Economic downturns may see a reduction in public infrastructure spending.
