The global Adult Iron Supplement Capsule market size is predicted to grow from US$ 191 million in 2025 to US$ 367 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 9.5% from 2026 to 2032.

Adult Iron Supplement Capsule is a capsule-based nutritional supplement designed to meet the iron supplementation needs of adults. It provides additional iron intake to support normal hemoglobin production, oxygen transportation, and energy metabolism. These products commonly use iron sources such as ferrous sulfate, ferrous fumarate, ferrous gluconate, and iron bisglycinate, often combined with nutrients including vitamin C, folic acid, and vitamin B12 to improve absorption efficiency and nutritional benefits. Adult iron supplement capsules are widely used among women, pregnant individuals, athletes, and adults with increased iron requirements or a risk of iron deficiency.

The adult iron supplement capsule market is expected to develop toward higher bioavailability, improved tolerability, and functionalized formulations. Since traditional iron supplements may cause gastrointestinal discomfort, manufacturers are increasingly focusing on advanced iron forms such as chelated iron, liposomal iron, and sustained-release formulations to enhance absorption and improve consumer experience. Meanwhile, growing awareness of preventive healthcare is expanding the role of iron supplements from basic deficiency correction toward broader applications in women's health, prenatal nutrition, sports nutrition, and comprehensive wellness management.

In addition, the market is being shaped by rising demand for personalized nutrition and natural health solutions. Consumers are increasingly seeking clean-label products, naturally sourced ingredients, additive-free formulations, and scientifically balanced nutrient combinations. Future product innovation will focus on combining iron with vitamins, probiotics, folic acid, and other functional ingredients, transforming adult iron supplement capsules from single-purpose nutritional products into integrated health management solutions.
