The global Alternative Investment Valuation market size is predicted to grow from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of % from 2026 to 2032.

Alternative Investment Valuation refers to the process of determining the value of non-traditional assets or investments, which differ from conventional asset classes like stocks, bonds, and cash. These alternative investments typically include assets such as private equity, hedge funds, real estate, commodities, infrastructure, venture capital, and collectibles (e.g., art, antiques). Valuing these assets is often more complex than valuing traditional investments due to their illiquid nature, lack of transparency, and limited pricing data.
