Anti-stretch mark massage products are a category of specialized skin care products designed to help expectant mothers prevent or reduce stretch marks. Stretch marks are a common skin problem during pregnancy. They usually appear on the abdomen, breasts, buttocks, etc., and are mainly caused by stretching of the skin and hormonal changes. Anti-stretch mark massage products use gentle massage and special ingredients to maintain skin elasticity, moisturize and moisturize, so as to reduce the appearance of stretch marks or lighten existing stretch marks. As consumers pay more attention to health and safety, future anti-stretch mark massage products may pay more attention to the use of pure natural ingredients and avoid the addition of harmful chemicals.
