In 2025, global Backpacking Camping Tent production reached approximately 7000 k units, with an average global market price of around 160 US$/Unit. The production capacity of Backpacking Camping Tent reaches 8700 k units, and the industry's gross profit margin is approximately between 20% and 40%.

The backpacking camping tent market continues to expand, primarily driven by multiple factors, including the rise of global outdoor sports, the popularization of hiking and lightweight camping concepts, the increasing demands of consumers for equipment portability and safety, the continuous reduction of weight and enhancement of environmental adaptability through new materials and structural design technologies, and the promotion of a younger outdoor lifestyle by social media and short video platforms. At the same time, the frequent occurrence of extreme weather due to climate change has also prompted users to pay more attention to the reliability and versatility of tents, further accelerating product upgrades and the growth of segmented demands.
