The global Book Publishing market size is predicted to grow from US$ 117390 million in 2025 to US$ 190040 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 7.3% from 2026 to 2032.

Book Publishing refers to the process of producing and distributing books in physical or digital formats, including activities such as content acquisition, editing, design, printing, marketing, and sales. It connects authors with readers through publishing houses or self-publishing platforms, covering a wide range of genres from literature to education, science, and business.

The upstream of the book publishing industry mainly includes content creators (authors, translators), editing and design services, and printing or digital production technologies. The downstream involves distribution and sales channels such as bookstores, online retailers, e-commerce platforms, and digital reading services. With the rise of digital media and e-books, downstream channels are increasingly shifting toward online ecosystems and subscription-based platforms.

United States market for Book Publishing is estimated to increase from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million by 2032, at a CAGR of % from 2026 through 2032.
