According to our LPI (LP Information) latest study, the global Breather Membrane market size was valued at US$ 135.9 million in 2023. With growing demand in downstream market, the Breather Membrane is forecast to a readjusted size of US$ 197.7 million by 2030 with a CAGR of 5.5% during review period.

The research report highlights the growth potential of the global Breather Membrane market. Breather Membrane are expected to show stable growth in the future market. However, product differentiation, reducing costs, and supply chain optimization remain crucial for the widespread adoption of Breather Membrane. Market players need to invest in research and development, forge strategic partnerships, and align their offerings with evolving consumer preferences to capitalize on the immense opportunities presented by the Breather Membrane market.

A breather membrane is a thin sheet of fabric that sits above insulation and rafters, but underneath the roof slates. The construction of the fabric allows any condensation to rise up into the roof void but prevents the condensing water from dripping back down into your roof. Instead, it channels the water down into the gutter, preventing many problems.

Breathable membranes for walls tend to be of a generally lower specification than those used within roofs due to the nature of the application. Normally a roof breather would also be suitable as a high specification wall breather, but a wall breather would almost certainly not be suitable for use in a roof.
