Bulgur is a cereal food made from the parboiled groats of several different wheat species, most often from durum wheat. It originates in Middle Eastern cuisine.

LPI (LP Information)' newest research report, the "Bulgur Industry Forecast" looks at past sales and reviews total world Bulgur sales in 2022, providing a comprehensive analysis by region and market sector of projected Bulgur sales for 2023 through 2029. With Bulgur sales broken down by region, market sector and sub-sector, this report provides a detailed analysis in US$ millions of the world Bulgur industry.

This Insight Report provides a comprehensive analysis of the global Bulgur landscape and highlights key trends related to product segmentation, company formation, revenue, and market share, latest development, and M&A activity. This report also analyzes the strategies of leading global companies with a focus on Bulgur portfolios and capabilities, market entry strategies, market positions, and geographic footprints, to better understand these firms' unique position in an accelerating global Bulgur market.

This Insight Report evaluates the key market trends, drivers, and affecting factors shaping the global outlook for Bulgur and breaks down the forecast by type, by application, geography, and market size to highlight emerging pockets of opportunity. With a transparent methodology based on hundreds of bottom-up qualitative and quantitative market inputs, this study forecast offers a highly nuanced view of the current state and future trajectory in the global Bulgur.

The global Bulgur market size is projected to grow from US$ million in 2022 to US$ million in 2029; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of % from 2023 to 2029.

Numerous factors are responsible for the growth of the global market. Factors such as increasing health concerns among population worldwide, increasing preference for Mediterranean cuisines and dishes, changing consumer preferences and tastes, changing consumer lifestyle and rising popularity of healthy food, rising consumer preference for bulgur products, growing online retail distribution channel, and increasing purchasing power of middle class is pushing the growth of the global market for bulgur. Aspects such as declining demand for wheat and wheat products, slow penetration of bulgur in several regions, less awareness about usage of bulgur in different dishes and overall less awareness among people are posing restraints to the growth of the global bulgur market.

This report presents a comprehensive overview, market shares, and growth opportunities of Bulgur market by product type, application, key manufacturers and key regions and countries.
