Upstream includes auto parts suppliers, lubricant and consumable manufacturers, and diagnostic equipment and tool suppliers, providing basic materials and technical support for the fast repair and maintenance platform. Midstream consists of the fast car repair and maintenance platform operators, integrating offline auto repair shops, brand chain service providers, and technician resources to provide one-stop services such as online booking, in-store repair, on-site service, maintenance reminders, repair warranties, and insurance claims. Downstream are car owners and corporate fleet users.
