The global Career Advisory Service market size is predicted to grow from US$ 364 million in 2025 to US$ 514 million in 2031; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 5.9% from 2025 to 2031.

The career advisory service market is experiencing steady growth and development. With the changing job market and increased competition, individuals are seeking guidance and support to make informed career decisions and navigate their professional paths.

One of the key factors driving market development is the rising need for career development and planning. As the job market becomes more dynamic and volatile, individuals are realizing the importance of strategic career planning to stay competitive and achieve their professional goals. This has led to an increased demand for career advisory services.

Another factor contributing to market development is the growing complexity of career options. With the availability of diverse career paths and industries, individuals often need expert advice to explore different options, understand the skills required, and make informed decisions. Career advisory services play a crucial role in providing insights, assessments, and guidance to help individuals make educated career choices.
