Abstracts

According to this study, the global Carton Turnover Rack Systems market size will reach US$ 905 million by 2031.

The carton turnover rack system is an efficient and space-saving logistics storage solution. It mainly uses gravity flow design or roller guides to achieve automatic sliding and first-in-first-out (FIFO) management of cartons. It is widely used in warehousing, e-commerce picking, manufacturing ingredients and other links. The system is usually composed of multiple layers of roller tracks. After the cartons are placed from the incoming end, they slide along the track to the outgoing end with the help of gravity. Operators can pick them directly at the exit end, greatly improving picking efficiency and operation fluency. The carton turnover rack system can effectively shorten the operation path, reduce the frequency of manual operations, and improve storage density and space utilization.

United States market for Carton Turnover Rack Systems is estimated to increase from US$ million in 2024 to US$ million by 2031, at a CAGR of % from 2025 through 2031.

China market for Carton Turnover Rack Systems is estimated to increase from US$ million in 2024 to US$ million by 2031, at a CAGR of % from 2025 through 2031.
