Abstracts

The global Cat Care Services market size is predicted to grow from US$ 900 million in 2025 to US$ 1638 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 8.9% from 2026 to 2032.

Pet cat care services refer to temporary, personalized care services provided by professionals or organizations when cat owners are unable to care for their cats themselves due to business trips, travel, hospitalization, or busy schedules. Service formats mainly include in-home feeding, home boarding, short-term boarding at professional catteries, health monitoring, and care for special needs.

The rapid development of pet cat care services is mainly due to the increase in the number of single-person households in cities, the prevalence of dual-income families, and the continuous rise in the popularity of cats as indoor companion animals. At the same time, modern cat owners pay close attention to the psychological well-being and stress management of their pets and are unwilling to entrust their pets to non-professionals, which drives the market demand for professional and trustworthy care services.
