The two most important species are German chamomile (Marticaria recutita) and Roman chamomile (Chamaemelum nobile). These two have an extensive industrial application. They are mainly used for their calming and anti-inflammatory properties, and each offer their own additional health benefits. Apart from these Chamomile has been used in teas as a mild, relaxing sleep aid, treatment for fevers, colds, stomach ailments, and as an anti-inflammatory, to name only a few therapeutic uses.

The growing health consciousness among consumers is acting as major driver for the Chamomile market. Due the hectic & busy life schedule of industry professionals, they are not able to get a proper sleep. This leads to various sleeping disorders.
