The global Children's Building Sets market size is predicted to grow from US$ 1278 million in 2025 to US$ 1621 million in 2031; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 4.0% from 2025 to 2031.

Children's building sets are toy kits primarily composed of building blocks, designed to stimulate creativity, logical thinking, and hands-on skills in children through assembly and construction. These blocks are typically made from safe, non-toxic materials like plastic, wood, or other child-friendly substances, and come in a variety of shapes and colors to suit different age groups. Children's building sets help children understand basic geometric shapes, spatial relationships, and engineering concepts, while also promoting teamwork and social interaction. By freely combining and constructing, children can create various objects, structures, or scenes, fostering their imagination and problem-solving abilities.
