The global Cocktail Straw market size is projected to grow from US$ million in 2022 to US$ million in 2029; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of % from 2023 to 2029.

Cocktail straws are commonly made from materials such as plastic, paper, or stainless steel. They are designed to be lightweight and disposable, allowing for easy disposal after use. However, reusable and eco-friendly options made from metal or bamboo are also available.

These straws are primarily used for cocktails and mixed drinks served in shorter glasses or lowball glasses. They are ideal for sipping cocktails that contain ice, garnishes, or layered ingredients, as they allow for controlled sipping and stirring without disturbing the drink's presentation.

Cocktail straws come in various colors and designs, adding a decorative touch to the drink and enhancing the overall cocktail experience. They are often paired with cocktail garnishes, such as fruit slices or cocktail picks, to provide a visually appealing presentation.

Overall, cocktail straws serve both functional and aesthetic purposes, providing a convenient and stylish way to enjoy mixed drinks while maintaining the drink's composition and presentation.

A cocktail straw is a small, slender straw typically used for sipping or stirring drinks, especially in cocktails. It is shorter and narrower compared to regular drinking straws, usually measuring around 5 to 6 inches (12 to 15 centimeters) in length.
