The global Commercial Due Diligence market size is predicted to grow from US$ 601 million in 2025 to US$ 1209 million in 2031; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 12.3% from 2025 to 2031.

Commercial Due Diligence (CDD) is a comprehensive and systematic process of evaluating the commercial aspects of a business or investment opportunity. It is typically conducted by prospective buyers, investors, or lenders to assess the attractiveness and viability of a business or project. The primary goal of CDD is to gain a deep understanding of the target company's commercial operations, market position, competitive landscape, and financial performance to make informed investment decisions.

The digitalization of business processes has led to an abundance of data. CDD is increasingly leveraging advanced data analytics tools and techniques to extract valuable insights from data. This includes predictive analytics, machine learning, and artificial intelligence for market analysis, customer behavior prediction, and risk assessment.
