As compared to interior paint, digitally printed wallpapers enhance the aesthetic appeal of walls and are more economical. The demand for better aesthetics has increased, especially in residential construction. Digitally illustrated wallpapers contribute to the aesthetic attractiveness of wall space along with protecting buildings from damage. For instance, some wallpapers, such as grass-cloth printed on fabric backing enable installation on rough surfaces, which helps protect buildings from outer damage and help in maintaining the aesthetic appeal of the buildings & offices. Apart from this, the durability of digitally printed wallpapers is much higher than that of conventional paintings. Wallpaper made from different substrates offer a wide range of benefits and properties. For instance, vinyl-based wallpapers provide stain-resistance, durability, and easy maintenance properties. The improved durability of wallpapers has reduced the need for frequent removal, thus reducing the costs incurred by end users in the short run.
