Abstracts

The global Ebook Subscription Service market size is predicted to grow from US$ 507 million in 2025 to US$ 707 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 4.9% from 2026 to 2032.

An Ebook Subscription Service is a digital content platform that lets users pay a recurring monthly or annual fee to access a curated library of ebooks, audiobooks, and sometimes magazines or comics across devices, rather than purchasing individual titles; it offers on?demand, unlimited or quota?based reading, cross?device sync, personalization, and often offline access, serving casual readers, students, and professionals with a cost?effective alternative to ownership.

The Ebook Subscription Service industry is driven by AI?powered personalization, bundled ebook?audiobook offerings, mobile?first design, and flexible tiered pricing; key opportunities include rising digital literacy, growth in academic and corporate subscriptions, expansion in emerging markets, and exclusive content partnerships to boost retention, while challenges include high content licensing costs, subscriber churn, competition from free or ad?supported reading, limited availability of new bestsellers, and pressure to maintain large, diverse catalogs to sustain engagement.
