Abstracts

According to this study, the global Exterior Paint Services market size will reach US$ 28563 million by 2031.

Exterior wall painting service refers to a service system that provides professional painting solutions for the exterior surfaces of buildings (such as walls, door and window frames, cornices, fences, etc.). Its core is to achieve the beautification, protection and functional optimization of the building's appearance through a systematic construction process, combined with high-performance coatings and professional technology. The service covers surface pretreatment (such as cleaning, grinding, repairing cracks), layered coating of primer and topcoat, color design and weather resistance enhancement, etc., aiming to resist environmental erosion such as ultraviolet rays, rain, temperature differences, etc., extend the service life of the building, and enhance its visual appeal and market value.
