Abstracts

The global Fintech ERP Software market size is predicted to grow from US$ 102 million in 2025 to US$ 159 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 6.7% from 2026 to 2032.

Fintech ERP software is a next-generation enterprise-level management platform that deeply integrates fintech with traditional enterprise resource planning. It transcends the traditional ERP focus on internal resource integration by embedding financial services such as payment settlement, supply chain finance, intelligent risk control, and digital credit into core business processes in a modular or API-based manner. Leveraging technologies such as big data, artificial intelligence, and blockchain, it enables real-time analysis and intelligent decision-making of the capital and information flows throughout these processes, thereby optimizing capital utilization efficiency, reducing financing costs, and strengthening compliance and risk management capabilities. Its core value lies in building a unified, intelligent digital operations hub for enterprises, which not only improves internal management efficiency but also opens up connections with the external financial ecosystem, enabling enterprises to agilely obtain financial support in the rapidly developing digital economy, ultimately enhancing their overall competitiveness and resilience to risks.

United States market for Fintech ERP Software is estimated to increase from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million by 2032, at a CAGR of % from 2026 through 2032.

China market for Fintech ERP Software is estimated to increase from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million by 2032, at a CAGR of % from 2026 through 2032.
