Abstracts

The global Freight Liability Insurance market size is predicted to grow from US$ 4872 million in 2025 to US$ 7187 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 5.8% from 2026 to 2032.

Freight Liability Insurance is an insurance product that provides coverage for losses, damage, loss, or delays incurred during transportation due to the fault, negligence, or statutory liability of carriers, freight forwarders, warehouse custodians, and other related parties. This insurance product is designed to transfer the risk to the responsible parties involved in transportation and related processes. When the insured (such as a carrier or freight forwarder) is required to pay compensation to the cargo owner or related parties due to such liability, the insurance company will pay the eligible compensation amount in accordance with the insurance contract, thereby alleviating the financial burden on the responsible party.

United States market for Freight Liability Insurance is estimated to increase from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million by 2032, at a CAGR of % from 2026 through 2032.
