According to our LPI (LP Information) latest study, the global Geriatric Care Services market size was valued at US$ 699030 million in 2023. With growing demand in downstream market, the Geriatric Care Services is forecast to a readjusted size of US$ 884760 million by 2030 with a CAGR of 3.4% during review period.

The research report highlights the growth potential of the global Geriatric Care Services market. Geriatric Care Services are expected to show stable growth in the future market. However, product differentiation, reducing costs, and supply chain optimization remain crucial for the widespread adoption of Geriatric Care Services. Market players need to invest in research and development, forge strategic partnerships, and align their offerings with evolving consumer preferences to capitalize on the immense opportunities presented by the Geriatric Care Services market.

Geriatric care services encompass providing care for the elderly who are facing chronic physical conditions or other diseases and disorders. These services comprise a wide range of personal care, health care, and other services to meet the requirements of older adults who are limited for self-care owing to chronic illness, injury, mental, physical, and cognitive disability or any other health-related disorders. Geriatric care services also offer assistance with daily activities such as bathing, dressing, grooming, eating, and other activities, including medication management and house work.

Presence of favorable reimbursement policies and increased life expectancy are also amongst few factors expected to propel demand for geriatric care services. There is an increase in the adoption level for these services owing to the advantages associated
