Abstracts

The global Gold and Silver Jewelry market size is predicted to grow from US$ 179661 million in 2025 to US$ 238741 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 4.3% from 2026 to 2032.

Gold and Silver Jewelry, there are many techniques to create finishes. The most common are high-polish, satin/matte, brushed, and hammered. High-polished jewellery is the most common and gives the metal a highly reflective, shiny look. Satin, or matte finish reduces the shine and reflection of the jewellery, and this is commonly used to accentuate gemstones such as diamonds. Brushed finishes give the jewellery a textured look and are created by brushing a material (similar to sandpaper) against the metal, leaving ?brush strokes?. Hammered finishes are typically created by using a rounded steel hammer and hammering the jewellery to give it a wavy texture. The product has an average price of approximately $550 per unit, with global sales of approximately 333 million units.

Jewelry consists of decorative items made of precious metals (such as gold, silver, and platinum) and gemstones (such as diamonds, rubies, sapphires, and emeralds), often worn on the body to signify status, aesthetics, or commemorative significance. Product parameters typically include material (such as 18K gold or 925 silver), gemstone type (natural diamonds or synthetic gemstones), cut grade (such as 3EX cut), clarity (such as VS1), and color grade (such as D color). Gold jewelry is not only an ornament but also a dual symbol of culture and wealth. In Eastern culture, gold carries the meaning of auspiciousness, heritage, and status; in the global market, it is an important asset for hedging against inflation and preserving and increasing value. With the innovation of design concepts and the transformation of consumption attitudes, gold jewelry is evolving from traditional heavy and heavy to light luxury and fashion. New techniques such as ancient gold, hard gold, and colored gold are constantly refreshing people's aesthetic perception of gold, giving it new vitality among young consumers.
