Increase in population density in metro cities has been majorly driving the growth of the home decor and accessories market. People are majorly migrating from rural areas to metro cities in the search of job opportunities and staying there lifelong. This migration creates huge opportunities for real estate, where various home decor products are required. Various home decor include furniture, kitchenware, bathroom storage & accessories, serveware, and others. Surge in urbanized population creates huge demand for home decor as people living in metro cities are considerably seeking for high standard of living. Furthermore, growth in urbanization has resulted in more spending power of consumer on products which shows their good social status and wealth. In addition, changing lifestyle of individuals along with raising consumer desire to reveal social status by a greater home decor products availability will further create a huge demand for home decor and accessories products market.
