Abstracts

The global Hotel Metasearch Engine market size is predicted to grow from US$ 8138 million in 2025 to US$ 27810 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 19.3% from 2026 to 2032.

A Hotel Metasearch Engine is an online travel platform that aggregates hotel room rates, availability, and offers from multiple sources?including online travel agencies (OTAs), hotel chain websites, and booking systems?in one place, so users can compare prices and options without visiting multiple sites. It acts as a price-comparison and search layer for hotel accommodations.

The global hotel metasearch engine market is a high-growth, highly concentrated sector driven by travel recovery, mobile-first behavior, and direct booking strategies.

Google Hotels holds an unassailable lead with ~85% of ad spend, while Asia?Pacific is the fastest?growing region. Success will depend on mobile optimization, AI integration, direct booking partnerships, and regional localization. The market remains highly competitive, with tech giants, OTAs, and regional players vying for share in a rapidly evolving travel landscape. Market matures; consolidation accelerates. Hybrid meta?OTA models will dominate. Blockchain may enhance data security and transparency. Economic downturns could reduce travel spending; regulatory changes may limit Google?s power.
