Hydraulic Swivel Folding Machine is a metal forming machine that uses hydraulic drive and swivel beam or folding mechanisms to bend, fold, and form sheet metal parts. It is used for cabinets, enclosures, ducts, panels, doors, metal furniture, automotive parts, and industrial sheet metal fabrication requiring stable bending force and repeatable forming accuracy.

The industrial chain of Hydraulic Swivel Folding Machine covers upstream hydraulic cylinders, pumps, valves, steel frames, motors, controllers, tooling, sensors, guides, and electrical components. The midstream consists of structural machining, hydraulic integration, tooling assembly, control programming, alignment calibration, load testing, and final inspection. Downstream applications mainly include sheet metal workshops, appliance manufacturing, HVAC duct fabrication, machinery plants, construction metal products, automotive components, and industrial equipment manufacturing.

Metal processing, hardware manufacturing and logistics container production increase application of hydraulic swivel folding machines. Hydraulic drive ensures stable folding pressure and flexible rotary positioning. Automated feeding linkage improves batch processing efficiency.
