The global Intellectual and Developmental Disability Services market size is predicted to grow from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of % from 2026 to 2032.

Intellectual and developmental disability service is evolving from a system focused on delivering services in large institutions, often remote from individual families and communities, to one based on flexible and dynamic supports and services. Services are provided near home and in the community, including community accommodation and day support services. Community housing options include group homes, studio apartments with roommates, or family living environments. People get support at home or in their own home. Provides day services, such as supported employment, training, and recreation, to people living in residential areas and at home. Families caring for a child or adult sibling with an intellectual disability also have access to a wide range of services and supports. Services include case management, mobility training, employment training, and opportunity and adult day care.
