Abstracts

The report requires updating with new data and is sent in 48 hours after order is placed.

Jamon Bellota, also known as Jamón Ibérico de Bellota, is a type of Spanish cured ham made from acorn-fed Iberian pigs. The word 'bellota' refers to acorns, which are a significant part of the diet of these pigs during the final stage of their lives. The pigs are typically free-range and allowed to roam oak forests (called dehesas) where they feed on grass, herbs, and, most importantly, acorns. This diet contributes to the unique flavor and texture of the ham.

The production process of Jamón Ibérico de Bellota is highly regulated. The pigs must be a specific breed, typically the black Iberian pig, and they must be raised and fed according to strict standards. The curing process can take years, during which the hams are salted and then hung to dry in a controlled environment.

Jamón Ibérico de Bellota is highly prized for its rich, nutty flavor and melt-in-your-mouth texture. It's considered a delicacy and often served thinly sliced as a tapa or appetizer in Spanish cuisine.

The global Jamon Bellota market size is projected to grow from US$ million in 2024 to US$ million in 2030; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of %from 2024 to 2030.
