The global Kids Electric Toothbrush market size is predicted to grow from US$ 650 million in 2025 to US$ 1068 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 7.5% from 2026 to 2032.

In 2025, global production of kids electric toothbrushes reached 44.3 million units, with an estimated average selling price of US$15 per unit. Kids electric toothbrushes are electric oral hygiene products designed for infants, preschoolers, elementary school students, and teenagers. They typically feature smaller brush heads, softer bristles, low-amplitude or gentle sonic/rotational power, rounded bodies, non-slip handles, fun designs, timer reminders, zone indicators, light/music/app interaction, and parental control functions. They are used for children's daily oral hygiene, care of primary and mixed dentition teeth, cavity prevention, cleaning of brackets and interdental spaces during orthodontic treatment, care of children's sensitive gums, family habit formation, and school/community oral health programs. The upstream of the industry chain includes ABS/PP/TPE plastics, PBT/nylon soft bristles, silicone materials, micro motors, sonic drive components, lithium batteries or dry batteries, circuit boards, power management chips, waterproof seals, charging cables/bases, children's pattern stickers, packaging materials, and molds; the midstream includes child-safe structural design, brush handle injection molding, brush head bristle implantation, motor and battery assembly, waterproof testing, drop testing, noise control, material compliance certification, and OEM/ODM manufacturing; the downstream includes maternal and infant channels, pharmacies and supermarkets, e-commerce platforms, brand websites, dental clinics, orthodontic institutions, and cross-border e-commerce. Gross profit margins range from approximately 30% to 55%.

Globally, North America and Europe are dominated by branded, rechargeable, app-interactive, and dental-recommended products, with higher average order values. The Asia-Pacific market, particularly China, is experiencing rapid growth, driven by e-commerce for mothers and babies, increased awareness of cavity prevention in children, orthodontic treatment for teenagers, and mid-to-low-priced rechargeable products. Latin America, the Middle East, and Africa are dominated by entry-level, battery-operated, and basic sonic models, with higher price sensitivity. Future industry trends include: product upgrades from 'cartoon appearance + basic vibration' to age-appropriate brush heads, soft bristles for safety, low noise, pressure protection, 2-minute timers, and zone reminders; app interaction, gamified brushing, and parental supervision features will improve child compliance; orthodontic electric toothbrushes for children, sensitive gum care models, and safe models for younger children will become growth drivers; replacement brush heads, children's toothpaste, and bundled sales will increase repeat purchases; and environmentally friendly materials, replaceable brush heads, and rechargeable products will gradually replace disposable battery-operated products. Overall, children's electric toothbrushes are a rapidly growing but still highly segmented category in the electric toothbrush market. Their core competitiveness lies not only in motor performance, but also in children's safety, age-appropriate design, fun and educational features, parental trust, and repurchase rate of consumables.
