Large-scale drilling rigs that can drill into the earth's crust to a depth of more than a thousand meters. During drilling, the mud pump circulates the mud through the drill pipe and bit into the casing annulus, cools the bit and removes cuttings. The lifting system on the drilling rig can lift hundreds of tons of drill pipe. Other equipment can pump acid or sand into the reservoir, conduct fracturing operations, and direct crude oil or natural gas away from the reservoir to the surface.
