Liquid alkaline cleaners are solutions formulated with alkaline substances to remove various types of dirt, grease, and stains from surfaces. They are commonly used in industrial settings, commercial kitchens, and household cleaning applications. Alkaline cleaners work by breaking down the bonds that hold dirt and grime to surfaces, making it easier to rinse them away. They are particularly effective for removing oily and greasy residues, as alkaline substances can emulsify fats and oils, allowing them to be washed away with water. These cleaners can be used on a wide range of surfaces, including metal, glass, ceramic, plastic, and painted surfaces, but it's essential to check compatibility with specific materials before use to avoid damage.

The global Liquid Alkaline Cleaner market size is projected to grow from US$ million in 2024 to US$ million in 2030; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of % from 2024 to 2030.
