Abstracts

According to this study, the global Liveboard Insurance market size will reach US$ 731 million by 2031.

Liveboard Insurance is an insurance product designed specifically for ship owners who 'take their ship as their home' (i.e. live on a ship for a long time), and is used to cover the property losses, liability risks and personal protection needs that may be faced when living, using and mooring on a ship. Compared with ordinary ship insurance, its coverage is more in line with the particularity of 'living on a ship', taking into account the ship itself, the living facilities and the life risks of the ship owner on the ship.
