The global Long-acting Peginterferon market size is predicted to grow from US$ 463 million in 2025 to US$ 599 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 3.8% from 2026 to 2032.

Long-acting interferon refers to a modified form of interferon, a type of protein produced by the immune system in response to viral infections. Interferons play a critical role in the body's defense against viruses, and they have been used in the treatment of various medical conditions, including viral infections and some types of cancer. Long-acting interferon is a modified version designed to have a prolonged effect in the body, reducing the frequency of administration.

Long-acting Peginterferon is a drug widely used for the treatment of chronic viral infections and cancer, with its market size steadily increasing, particularly in the biopharmaceutical sector. The sales of this innovative medication continue to grow, primarily due to its ability to offer a more convenient treatment option, reducing the dosing frequency for patients. The future development prospects of Long-acting Peginterferon are promising, expected to further drive innovation in the healthcare industry and provide efficient treatment options for a wider patient population.
