The matrix body PDC drill bit is a high-performance drill bit used for oil, gas and geological exploration drilling operations. Its main body is made of powder metallurgy, which can withstand high wear strength and is suitable for complex or hard formations. Compared with steel-body PDC drill bits, matrix body drill bits have stronger corrosion resistance and wear resistance, and are suitable for high-speed drilling, deep well or directional well operations, especially in abrasive formations.

The main structure of the matrix body PDC drill bit includes: matrix body, diamond composite plate cutting teeth, nozzle, water outlet trough, etc. Its matrix is sintered by copper-based or nickel-based metal powders, with high hardness but slightly lower overall strength, so it is suitable for precision molding and complex structure design.

United States market for Matrix Body PDC Drill Bit is estimated to increase from US$ million in 2024 to US$ million by 2031, at a CAGR of % from 2025 through 2031.

China market for Matrix Body PDC Drill Bit is estimated to increase from US$ million in 2024 to US$ million by 2031, at a CAGR of % from 2025 through 2031.
