The global Medical Cosmetology Service market size is predicted to grow from US$ 209150 million in 2025 to US$ 329760 million in 2031; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 7.9% from 2025 to 2031.

Medical cosmetology service refers to a branch of medicine that focuses on enhancing a person's appearance through non-surgical cosmetic procedures. It involves the use of medical techniques and technologies to improve the aesthetic appearance of the face, body, and skin. Medical cosmetology services are typically provided by licensed medical professionals, such as dermatologists or plastic surgeons, who have specialized training in cosmetic procedures.

Some common medical cosmetology services include:

1. Botox and Dermal Fillers: These are injectable treatments used to reduce wrinkles, fine lines, and restore volume to areas of the face.
2. Laser Hair Removal: This procedure uses laser technology to permanently reduce or remove unwanted hair from various parts of the body.
3. Chemical Peels: A chemical solution is applied to the skin to exfoliate and improve its texture, reducing the appearance of wrinkles, acne scars, and hyperpigmentation.
4. Microdermabrasion: This non-invasive procedure uses a device to gently exfoliate the outer layer of the skin, improving its texture and reducing the appearance of fine lines, acne scars, and sun damage.

5. Skin Rejuvenation: Various treatments, such as laser therapy or intense pulsed light (IPL), are used to improve the overall appearance and texture of the skin, reducing signs of aging, sun damage, and pigmentation issues.

6. Non-surgical Body Contouring: Procedures like CoolSculpting or radiofrequency treatments are used to reduce stubborn fat deposits and contour the body without surgery.

7. Laser Tattoo Removal: Laser technology is used to break down tattoo ink particles, allowing the body to naturally eliminate them over time.
