The global Medical Grade Defoamer market size is predicted to grow from US$ 463 million in 2025 to US$ 655 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 5.2% from 2026 to 2032.

Medical grade defoamers are highly efficient defoaming additives specifically designed for use in the production processes of pharmaceuticals, medical devices, and biopharmaceuticals. Their components must meet pharmacopoeia standards (such as USP/EP), possessing extremely high purity, non-toxicity, and biocompatibility. They can rapidly break down foam without affecting product activity and safety, and are widely used in processes such as fermentation, extraction, cleaning, and filling.

Upstream suppliers include silicone monomers and silicone oils, polyether polyols, emulsifiers, fine chemical solvents, and pharmaceutical-grade packaging materials. Downstream suppliers primarily include pharmaceutical companies, in vitro diagnostic reagent companies, manufacturers of hemodialysis and extracorporeal circulation equipment, hospital disinfection and cleaning centers, and users of bioreactors and cell culture processes.

In 2024, the global market price for medical grade defoamers was US$54,000 per ton, with sales volume of approximately 8,340 tons, global production capacity of 8,500-9,000 tons, and industry profit margin of 15-20%.
