Medical peer review is a significant process with regard to claims settlement by an insurance company. It is the peer review that determines whether the treatment provided to a patient was medically necessary and whether the claim is legitimate. If you are a physician appointed by an insurer to review and analyze medical documents pertaining to a particular case, or an insurance company looking to determine the legitimacy of a claim, Managed Outsource Solutions (MOS) can provide comprehensive support with customized peer reviews for all major medical specialties and subspecialties. Our services also help medical record review organizations, physicians and law firms efficiently deal with complex care management issues, sentinel events, Workers' Compensation cases, and liability claims.

The global Medical Peer Review Services market size is projected to grow from US$ 4611.5 million in 2023 to US$ 5919.2 million in 2030; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 3.6% from 2024 to 2030.
