The concept of the metaverse in cultural tourism refers to utilizing virtual reality (VR), augmented reality (AR), and other immersive technologies to create digital replicas or experiences of real-world cultural destinations, landmarks, and heritage sites within a virtual environment. In this context, the metaverse allows users to explore and interact with these cultural sites virtually, offering an immersive and engaging experience without physically being present at the location. This can include virtual tours of historical monuments, museums, archaeological sites, art galleries, and cultural events. By leveraging the metaverse in cultural tourism, organizations and destinations can reach wider audiences, including those who may not have the opportunity to visit the physical locations due to various constraints such as distance, cost, or accessibility. It also offers new avenues for education, preservation, and promotion of cultural heritage, as well as innovative ways for cultural institutions to engage with visitors and enhance their overall experience.
