The global Mirrorless Housing market size is predicted to grow from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of % from 2026 to 2032.

A mirrorless housing is a protective case or shell designed specifically for mirrorless cameras. These housings are typically made from durable materials such as aluminum or polycarbonate and are waterproof, allowing photographers to take their mirrorless cameras underwater for underwater photography. Mirrorless housings also often feature controls and buttons that allow users to easily access and operate their camera's functions while it is inside the housing. These housings are essential for protecting mirrorless cameras from water, dust, and other elements while shooting in challenging environments.

United States market for Mirrorless Housing is estimated to increase from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million by 2032, at a CAGR of % from 2026 through 2032.
