The global Molten Salt Grade Sodium Nitrate market size is predicted to grow from US$ 739 million in 2025 to US$ 1074 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 5.6% from 2026 to 2032.

Molten Salt Grade Sodium Nitrate is a high-purity industrial salt specifically formulated for use in concentrated solar power (CSP) systems as a thermal transfer and storage medium. It exhibits excellent thermal stability, low moisture content, and minimal corrosive impurities such as chlorides and heavy metals. Commonly blended with potassium nitrate, it forms molten salt mixtures like Solar Salt used in thermal energy storage systems in tower and parabolic trough CSP plants.

With the rising demand for renewable energy, the global installed capacity of Concentrated Solar Power (CSP) continues to expand, driving substantial demand for molten salt materials. Molten Salt Grade Sodium Nitrate, a key component in thermal energy storage systems when mixed with potassium nitrate, is gaining market traction due to its high thermal stability and cost-effectiveness. The U.S., Europe, and China are the primary consumption regions. Particularly in China, strong policy support for carbon neutrality is accelerating CSP deployment and increasing the need for high-purity thermal salts. The global market for molten salt grade sodium nitrate is expected to grow at an annual rate of over 5%, playing a vital role in next-generation energy storage solutions.
