Abstracts

The global Multi-chair Functional Sofa market size is predicted to grow from US$ 6652 million in 2025 to US$ 9849 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 6.2% from 2026 to 2032.

In 2025, global Multi-chair Functional Sofa production reached 9.60 million units, with an average selling price of 708 USD/unit, production capacity of 10.50 million units, and an industrial gross margin of 36%.

Multi-chair Functional Sofa refers to a sofa product consisting of two or more seats and integrating one or more functions such as electric or manual adjustment, backrest reclining, footrest extension, seat linkage, storage, charging, and smart control. Compared with single-chair functional sofas, multi-chair functional sofas place greater emphasis on family sharing, living room leisure, home entertainment, and multi-user comfort experience, and are widely used in residential living rooms, home theaters, hotel suites, leisure spaces, and high-end home furnishing scenarios.

The upstream supply chain of Multi-chair Functional Sofa mainly includes leather, fabric, foam, wood, steel, reclining mechanisms, motors, controllers, power supplies, hardware, and packaging materials. Among these, fabrics, foam, and functional mechanisms directly affect product comfort, durability, and cost structure. The midstream segment covers product design, frame processing, upholstery manufacturing, functional mechanism assembly, final assembly, quality inspection, and brand operation. The downstream segment mainly serves furniture retailers, brand stores, e-commerce platforms, distributors, project channels, and end household users, with application scenarios including residential living rooms, home theaters, hotels, apartments, and leisure spaces.
