The global Neodymium Nitrate market size is predicted to grow from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million in 2031; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of % from 2025 to 2031.

The impact of the latest U.S. tariff measures and the corresponding policy responses from countries worldwide on market competitiveness, regional economic performance, and supply chain configurations will be comprehensively evaluated in this report.

Neodymium Nitrate is a highly water soluble crystalline neodymium source for uses compatible with nitrates and lower (acidic) pH; we also produce Neodymium Nitrate Hydrate (CAS 13746-96-8) and Neodymium Nitrate Hexahydrate (CAS 16454-60-7) . Nitrate compounds are generally soluble in water. Nitrate materials are also oxidizing agents. When mixed with hydrocarbons, nitrate compounds can form a flammable mixture. Nitrates are excellent precursors for production of ultra high purity compounds and certain catalyst and nanoscale materials (nanoparticles and nanopowders) . All metallic nitrates are inorganic salts of a given metal cation and the nitrate anion. The nitrate anion is a univalent (-1 charge) polyatomic ion composed of a single nitrogen atom ionically bound to three oxygen atoms (Symbol: NO₃) for a total formula weight of 62.05. Primary applications include lasers, glass coloring and tinting, and dielectrics. Neodymium nitrate is generally immediately available in most volumes. Ultra high purity and high purity compositions improve both optical quality and usefulness as scientific standards. Nanoscale elemental powders and suspensions, as alternative high surface area forms, may be considered.

United States market for Neodymium Nitrate is estimated to increase from US$ million in 2024 to US$ million by 2031, at a CAGR of % from 2025 through 2031.
