Abstracts

The report requires updating with new data and is sent in 48 hours after order is placed.

Next Generation Sequencing (NGS) involves massively parallel sequencing of millions of DNA fragments, providing vast amounts of data quickly and at an affordable cost. This enables in-depth analysis of entire genomes at unprecedented levels, allowing researchers to explore questions/hypotheses that previously would have required years to answer.

The driving factors of the European NGS services market are faster and cost-efficient sequencing, rising preference of NGS over other platforms, and rising prevalence of inherited diseases.

In addition, application of genomics in drug discovery, growing prevalence of cancer & other malignant diseases, and partnerships among companies, R&D centers, and universities supplement growth.

However, the factors hindering the growth of the market are reliability on grants and funding from the government and decrease in capital expenditure from academic institutions. Technological advancements opened new opportunities in the market.

Over the next five years, LPI(LP Information) projects that NGS Services will register a xx% CAGR in terms of revenue, reach US$ xx million by 2023, from US$ xx million in 2017.
