The global Nickel Perchlorate market size is predicted to grow from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million in 2031; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of % from 2025 to 2031.

The impact of the latest U.S. tariff measures and the corresponding policy responses from countries worldwide on market competitiveness, regional economic performance, and supply chain configurations will be comprehensively evaluated in this report.

Nickel Perchlorate, $\text{Ni}(\text{ClO}_4)_2$, may be obtained by dissolving nickel hydroxide or carbonate in a solution of perchloric acid, expelling the excess of acid at 110°C ., and concentrating to crystallisation. The salt separates out in long, green needles, soluble in water, alcohol, and acetone, but insoluble in chloroform. The salt may be dried by warming in a current of dry air or by prolonged exposure over sulphuric acid. It then has the formula $\text{Ni}(\text{ClO}_4)_2 \cdot 5\text{H}_2\text{O}$. The crystals melt at 149°C ., but already at 103°C . slight decomposition sets in with loss of perchloric acid and production of basic salt. The solution in water gradually undergoes hydrolytic dissociation, nickel hydroxide being precipitated.
