Non-Shrinking Mortar is a material used as part of the wall or framework of a building and is a type of material called mortar. Mortar is a material used when cement, sand, and water are mixed and allowed to harden. Generally, mortar has the property of shrinking when it hardens, but mortar that does not shrink when it hardens is called Non-Shrinking Mortar. If water-containing mortar shrinks significantly as it sets, it can lead to cracking. Non-Shrinking Mortar prevents the mortar from cracking by suppressing shrinkage during setting.

The global Non-Shrinking Mortar market size is projected to grow from US$ million in 2024 to US$ million in 2030; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of %from 2024 to 2030.
