The global Nutritional Gummy Manufacturing (OEM/ODM) market size is predicted to grow from US$ 7396 million in 2025 to US$ 16054 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 11.8% from 2026 to 2032.

Nutritional gummy contract manufacturing refers to the provision of comprehensive services including formula development, production, filling, packaging, and regulatory compliance by manufacturing firms on behalf of brand owners for functional gummies containing ingredients such as vitamins, minerals, probiotics, and collagen. This product category is characterized by its pleasant taste, modern dosage form, ease of consumption, and high level of consumer acceptance.

The upstream supply chain primarily comprises raw materials such as gelatin, pectin, sugar alcohols, sweeteners, flavorings and colorants, vitamins, minerals, plant extracts, probiotics, collagen, and packaging materials. The downstream market targets health supplement brands, pharmacy channels, e-commerce platforms, maternal and infant care brands, beauty and nutrition brands, and cross-border nutritional product enterprises.

The global nutritional gummy contract manufacturing market is projected to be driven in the future by the upgrading of functional nutrition consumption, growing demand for children's and women's health products, the rising popularity of sugar-free and low-sugar formulations, and the adoption of asset-light operational models by brands. Compared to tablets, capsules, and powders, gummies align more closely with consumer trends favoring snack-like formats, portability, and high adherence rates; they are particularly well-suited for applications such as multivitamins, immune support, beauty nutrition, sleep management, and gut health. Moving forward, contract manufacturers will place greater emphasis on formula stability, the preservation of active ingredients, low-sugar and plant-based formulations, flavor innovation, and regulatory compliance capabilities. Concurrently, the expansion of cross-border e-commerce, Direct-to-Consumer (DTC) brands, and private-label products will drive the nutritional gummy contract manufacturing sector toward upgrades in flexible manufacturing, rapid prototyping, and comprehensive one-stop ODM services.
