ODM stands for Original Design Manufacturer (detailed introduction), which is also known as white label clothing manufacturer or as private label clothing manufacturer. This method of clothing manufacturing lets a factory create clothing products out of their own designs and specifications but will let you put your own brand labels on these clothing products. This method is convenient for those who do not have any designs and ideas as the factory can right away provide them for you. It would be up to you to decide which design you choose for them to manufacture or mass produce.
